110. Precautions against cholera—Information to Military Department.—The particular attention of Collectors is drawn to the necessity of communicating to the Military Department information as to the existence of cholera on lines of road usually traversed by troops.

2 Periodical report.—Immediately on receipt of intimation from the military authorities that troops are about to march through a district the Collector should institute special inquiries regarding the existence of cholera on the route indicated, and should cause the tahsildars to report periodically on the subject until the troops have passed through. If any case of cholera is reported from any place along the line of march, it must be promptly reported to the Officer Commanding the troops as well as to the Division headquarters.

3. Information to Military authorities of large movements of people near military cantonments.—With a view to enable the Military authorities to take all necessary precautions to keep cantonment areas immune from infection during outbreaks of contagious diseases, Collectors of the districts in which there are military cantonment should give information of any large movements of people to the Military authorities concerned in the following manner:—

(a) A communication should be made to the Military authorities at the beginning of each calendar year, giving the dates of all known festivals in the year in the cantonment or within 25 miles of it which involve large movements of people through the cantonment or its immediate neighbourhood.

(b) A notice should be sent to the Military authorities every time such a festival occurs at least ten days in advance of the first day of the festival.

(c) An entry about the periodical communication referred to in (a) above should be made in the calendar of returns of the districts concerned.
